

Truths you take home from a Pastors' Wives' Get-away:

- You are not alone.
- You are deeply loved, just for who you are, just the way you are.
- Your story, in all its beauty and ugliness, is entirely precious.
- You can receive powerful prayer from others like you, and be renewed.
- You can find friends for a lifetime.

Get away for a real re-treat:

- Open only to pastors' wives and women in ministry.
- Enjoy a beautiful home environment.
- A flexible schedule allows for prayer ministry, time alone with the Lord, an afternoon outing, a little shared wisdom on topics you choose, and plenty of free time.
- Cost is only $10 plus one dish to share and a little spending money.

Jola's heart for families in vocational ministry has been developing for decades, but found its current home in 2007, when her husband, Kelley, began working with NCD Pastoral Care. She summarizes her ministry in six words, "I listen. I care. I pray." Although seemingly simple, God has used that focus to encourage many through coaching, friendships and networking, and given her the opportunity to see hearts healed, marriages strengthened, and ministries multiplied. Jola and Kelley have two adult children, and Jola currently enjoys baking bread for friends, working as a library assistant, reading and crocheting. She has a weakness for gourmet coffee and chocolate, babies and doggies, not necessarily in that order.

Lois' heart cry for all people, but especially women, is intimacy with Christ. Her desire is to encourage others towards intimacy through her walk and talk. The journey isn't complete in her yet but He will bring it to completion. Her experience as the wife of a pastor of three churches gives her a broad background into the stresses and needs tied to managing the balance between family and ministry. Lois and Jim have been with NCD Pastoral Care since 2003 and have two adult sons, two daughters-in law and five grandchildren!! Her hobbies are her grandchildren who give her such joy and remind her daily of the Love and Grace of Jesus.
